Practical Color Mixing Laura Miller, Instructor

Do you have five hundred paint colors and can't find the one you need?

This is a class to help the artist know how to choose paint colors for their individual palette. We cover the characteristics of paints, how they are made, how to choose which colors you really need and how to work successfully with a basic limited palette. The class is kept to a maximum of four students at one time to offer the most individual instruction and customized information. We use watercolor for the color mixes, but the colors and the mixing techniques apply across all mediums.

The class runs for two hours per class and is taught once per week for six weeks. Cost is $90 per student and includes all supplies except paintbrush. Contact Laura's Studio for dates and times.

If you are already drawing as a professional artist or as an artist-in-training, it will give you greater confidence in your ability and deepen your artistic perception. The studio has an upstairs dorm and can accommodate up to five overnight guests. There are bath and full kitchen facilities in the studio for those who want to cook rather than eat out. Restaurants and tourist locations are close by also. Contact the studio for more information.
